FIRST AERIAL POST SERVICE IN AMERICA INAUGURATED TODAY

Airplanes Leave New York and Washington Simultaneously Carrying Mail Between Capital and Metropolis of Nation Via Philadelphia at Rate of 100 Miles Per Hour—Postage Eight Times Regular Rate.

WASHINGTON, MAY 15.—America's first serial post service became a reality today. Skimming the skies between Washington and New York airplanes which started from the two cities simultaneously carried consignments of mail at the rate of 100 miles an hour—and 24 cents an ounce. And the institution of the service marked another step in the record of achievements since 1832 when the senate boasted that letters had "been brought from New York a distance of 250 mile in thirty-six hours."

The plane leaving New York at 11:30 o'clock was scheduled to arrive in Philadelphia at 12:30, and Washington at 2:30, the time for transportation by train being from six to seven hours. The air route will effect a saving of at least two hours in the delivery of mail at terminals, but a much greater saving will be made on account of the special delivery features in the cities, and earlier train connections. In some instances, according to the post office officials, the saving may amount to as much as twelve hours, by making connections which will avoid delivery going over until the following day.

Provision has also been made against delays resulting from accidents to the planes, relief machines and landing fields being provided at Baltimore, Havre De Grace, Wilmington and New Brunswick, N. J. The service started with twelve planes, three each at Washington, and New York and six at Philadelphia.

Parcels will be carried at the same rate as letters and will be given special delivery service in the city of destination. The packages, however, must not exceed thirty inches in length nor weigh more than two pounds.

The special stamp provided for the service is 7-8 of an inch long and 3-4 of an inch wide, and bears an airplane in flight. The numerals "24" appear in circles in both lower corners. The border design is red and the airplane blue, forming with the white background, the national colors.

General Foch, Allied Head Big Success

LONDON, MAY 15.—The success so far achieved since the allied armies have been placed under the supreme command of General Foch is astonishing to even the warmest supporters of the generalissimo. Men who formerly opposed the plan to establish a unity of command are now praising the idea.

Pronounced like "Gosh"

It is believed that the utter lack of friction and discontent anywhere is due largely to the timeliness of Foch's appointment. Almost simultaneously with his getting into the saddle the enemy's initiative towards Amiens and the sea was stopped and deflected towards Flanders. And there, too, the generalissimo, as soon as he had time to extend his organization northward accomplished wonderful results.

General Foch's successes have given the allies great confidence regarding the next blow that Hindenburg may contemplate. Foch has made it plain that he is not too proud to learn certain tactical lessons from the enemy and he can be counted on to take advantage of everything that has happened.

ASKS DIVORCE ON GROUNDS OF GROSS NEGLECT

Jessie Mowery, of Tunnel Hill, has filed a petition in the common pleas court for a divorce from Emmett Mowery, on grounds of gross neglect of duty. She asks for alimony, and the custody of their two children Marie, aged 6 and Mildred, aged 4.

They were married July 21, 1911.

RALPH WHEELER IS ASSIGNED TO SANITARY TRAIN

Wheeler went to Camp Sherman Monday to make arrangements for entering this branch of service. He was in Coshocton Wednesday for a short time, in order to get his appointment from the local board. He returned to camp Wednesday evening.

THREE SONS OF TOUVELL FAMILY IN THE SERVICE

Mr and Mrs Nathan Touvell, of near Conesville, have given three sons to Uncle Sam to help whip the Huns. Joseph Touvell, enlisted last summer and is stationed at Camp Sheridan, Montgomery, Ala. He will probably be sent across soon. David tried to enlist and was rejected physically and was later sent by the draft board with the Spruce Division to Washington.

The third son, Sherman, is stationed in General Hospital, New York. He also tried to enlist and was afterwards accepted in the selective service.

Elliott, of North Fourth street will give the valedictory address and Miss Bertha West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. West, of route eight, the salutatory at the annual commencement exercises of the Coshocton High school to be held Thursday evening, May 23, in the auditorium of the Central school building. There are sixty-three in this year's graduating class.

The program for the commencement exercises follows:

Invocation ..... Rev. E. O. Jessup
Song, "Somewhere the Lilies Bloom" ..... High School Double Quartet
Violin Solo ..... Francis Voorhees
Song, "Roses, Roses Everywhere" ..... High School Quartet
Salutatory ..... Bertha West
Song, "Charming Spring" .. Quartet

Song, "Clang of the Forge" ..... Quartet
Presentation of Diplomas ..... R. N. Barnes
Song, "Marseillaise" ... Girls' Chorus
"America" .... Audience and Chorus
Benediction ..... Rev. A. B. Mrakley

As in former years, an effort has been made to keep the expense incident to the graduation exercises as low as possible. The majority of the girls have made their graduation gowns themselves, under the direction of Miss Mary McClure, head of the Domestic Arts department. All the dresses are made of organdy, and cut from the same pattern. The girls have been allowed to choose the trimming for their dresses, and in this way a variety of gowns have been evolved. The average cost of the 1918 Coshocton girl graduate's dress is estimated at $4.00. One girl made hers at a cost of only $2.50, which is the least money expended for this purpose by any of the girls.

The baccalaureate sermon will be delivered by Rev. L. J. Hopper, pastor of the United Brethren church, in the Grace M. E. church auditorium Sunday evening.

COUNTY'S RECORD AN ENVIABLE ONE IN STAMP SALES

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., MAY 15.—War Savings Stamp sales reports from Coshocton county for the week ended May 2 were considerably in excess of the expectations of the Ohio War Savings Committee. The achievement of this county made possible the record attained for Ohio in April of selling more War Savings than any other state in the country.

In this county, total sales of War Savings Stamps to May 1 are record of a state headquarters as $241,725. This sum was made largely possible by the increase in War Savings Stamp sales for the last two weeks of April.

For April, Ohio sold enough War Savings Stamps to build seven transports to be used in conveying Ohio boys to France. The total cash deposited in the United States Treasury for this period was $6,477,730 a gain of $2,012,697 over March. "The rolled-up effect of the War Savings campaign shows a constant tendency to expand from month to month, as indicated by the gain in April sales of 45 per cent over March," a statement issued by H. P. Wolfe, state director, says.

IS IMPROVING

Miss Mary Duncan, South Fourth street woh has been ill for the past week is slowly improving.

GUNNER DEPEW TO GIVE TWO ADDRESSES AT SIXTH STREET THEATRE MONDAY

Kaiser Didn't Get Him, Thanks to Mr. Gerard—Sailor Boy Will Tell of Horrors of German Prison Camps--TrooperScottMayReturn

Gunner Depew, the fighting, laughing American sailor boy will fire the opening gun in the War Chest campaign here next Monday afternoon and evening at the Sixth Street theatre. Dressed in the uniform of the French Navy and carrying five wounds from his two years of fighting on land and sea and his three months in the German prison camps, he is coming to Coshocton to relate his thrilling war experiences.

The speakers' committee of the War Chest is very fortunate in securing Gunner Depew, as without a doubt he has had a more varied experience than any other American who has yet started out to help whip the Hun. Although only 23 years of age he has gone thru almost unbelievable experiences. His story is the most unique that has thus far come out of the battlefields of Europe. No man has seen more of German brutality, no man has suffered more and come back to tell it than Gunner Depew.

He will arrive in Coshocton Monday afternoon a few minutes after two o'clock and will be escorted to the theatre. All who can are urged to attend the afternoon meeting as the theatre will undoubtedly be crowded in the evening. No admission will be charged at either meeting and there will be no soliciting or accepting of War Chest contributions. Seats will be reserved for the sixty members of the War Council and their assistants in the various townships at the evening meeting but these seats will not be held for them longer than 8 p. m.

Gunner Depew tells his story in the straightforward, simple language of a sailor lad, yet he brings with him a war message straight from the heart of the boys who are now facing the Huns over there. Then his ambition to defeat German propaganda in this country, he has published his war experiences in his book "Gunner Depew." Yet this wiry little sailor lad, feeling that he still had a "bit" more to do, is hurrying from city to city speaking before crowded houses and imploring the "stay-at-homes" to back up the boys over there.

The gunner is one of the few Americans who have lived to come back to tell of the wretchedness and misery of German prison camps, especially that most infamous of all camps, Brandenburg, "The Hell Hole of Germany." Fighting with the French Foreign Legion in Belgium in 1914—gunner on the French battleship Cassard—fighting the Turks at the Dardanelles—in the trenches at Gallipoli—winning the Croix de Guerre—wounded five times—then captured by the German raider Moewe—landed in Germany—three months of starvation and torture in German prison camps—and an interview with Ambassador Gerard are only a few of the thrilling experiences which Gunner Depew endured. He is indebted to Ambassador Gerard for his release from Brandenburg prison camp.

Gunner Depew will be in Coshocton only one day. The speakers' committee hopes to secure Trooper Scott to deliver addresses in various townships of the county. He was heard by many of the people of the city at the opening of the third Liberty Loan campaign several weeks ago.

MRS. C. W. ST. CLAIR TALKS AT PLAINFIELD.

A talk on conditions among the French war orphans, and the work that is being done for them by the Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church will be given by Mrs. C. W. St. Clair, of North Fourth street, at Plainfield M. E. church Sunday morning. The service will start at 10:30 o'clock.

LIVES TO TELL IT.

PICTURES OF THE SOLDIERS COMING IN FOR WAR CHEST

Fifty of more pictures of Coshocton county boys in the government military or naval service have been received at War Chest headquarters to be displayed in the windows during the big campaign. It is hoped to have pictures of all who are in the service. If you have a picture of your soldier brother, father or son send it in, properly labeled on the back, whether he is in uniform or not, tho it is preferable to send the photograph in which he appears in uniform.

MANY PERENNIAL PLANTS KILLED BY HARD WINTER

Lovers of various hardy flowers, vines, hedges and rambler roses, have been grieved this spring to find most of them frozen and killed to the ground.

The honey suckle in most cases has been frozen out entirely. Many of the rambler roses, have been totally or partially killed. Most of the hedges were frozen but have been trimmed and will come up.

At first it was thot that all the rose bushes were killed but they are coming up now and show signs of blooming.

Miss Lulu King, of Millersburg, was dismissed from the City hospital Wednesday. She was operated on about two weeks ago.

NEW AUSTRO-GERMAN ALLIANCE IS FOR A PERIOD OF 25 YEARS

Austria Becomes Virtually A German Colony by Military Union Concluded at German Grand Headquarters—Economic and Tariff Questions Remain to be Settled.

ZURICH, MAY 15.—The new Austro-German alliance, just entered into at a conference of the German and Austrian emperors at German grand headquarters is to endure for twenty-five years according to advices received here today from Vienna.

The sovereigns have concluded a military union in the widest acceptance of the term, the advices stated. The economic and tariff questions will be settled with a view to the closest possible union.

London and Washington advices stated last night that it had been learned that as a result of the conference of German and Austria emperors, Austria will become virtually a German colony. The Austrian emperor

Austria-Hungary is doomed to become practically a vassal to Germany, according to all of the indications that have followed the conference of the two kaisers at German Great Headquarters. The German kaiser in his insatiable lust for power and in revenge for the "peace letter" sent by Emperor Charles to the allies a year ago, has stretched the mailed fist out over his ally. Germany evidently hoped to control Austria-Hungary in the same way she hoped to dominate all of western Russia. It is stated officially that compacts were drawn up at the "kaiser's conference" which gives Germany full sway over Austria-Hungary's future destinies.

was forced to submit to German conditions because of the help he needs. Conditions thruout Austria-Hungary are pictured as so chaotic that an uprising may come at any time.

HUNS' BIG GUNS ARE BOOMING

Firing is Heavy Around Bethune, Kemmel and Morlancourt.

LONDON, MAY 15.—Continued heavy artillery activity was reported in Field Marshal Haig's communique to the war office today. During the night he reported the artillery fire was heavy in the valleys of the Somme and the Ancre and around Bethune. This morning the firing became heavy at Morlancourt and around Kemmel.

The Germans attempted to raid the British lines during the night north of Lens but were repulsed.

Haig's troops carried out another successful raid northeast of Robecq.

The text of the official statement follows:

"A raid attempted by the enemy in the night time north of Lens was repulsed. We carried out another successful raid northeast of Robecq.

"Hostile artillery was active in the night time in the valleys of the Somme and the Ancre and north of Bethune in the forest De Nieppe sector. This morning the enemy's artillery activity increased southwest of Morlancourt and north of Kemmel."

HEART TROUBLE CLAIMS JOHN LINSTROM AT HIS HOME HERE LATE TUES.

John Linstrom, aged 67, died suddenly at his home on South Seventh street Tuesday evening from heart trouble. Mr Linstrom was apparently in his usual health. He worked at the Clow plant all day, where he was employed as a machinist and ate a hearty meal when he returned from work.

Mr Linstrom sat with his wife on the front porch of their home until nine o'clock and retired. After he had retired he was seized with violent pains around the heart and died before a physician could arrive.

Mr Linstrom has made his home in this city for several years and during that time he won the love and respect of many friend. He was quiet, conservative, and thoroly devoted to his wife and daughter. He had been a trusted employe of the Clow plant and was well liked by his fellow workmen. Mr Linstrom was a member of the Lutheran church.

After Three Years

Coshocton Testimony Remains Unshaken

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Coshocton story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

P. Schaeffer, blacksmith, 216 South Second St., says: "I think continually bending over at work is what brought on my kidney trouble. Nights I was restless and had to get up to pass the kidney secretions which were unnatural. Mornings I could hardly get out of bed on account of my back. After suffering this way nine months and trying many remedies without benefit, I used Doan's Kidney Pills [illegible] taking them [illegible] I felt like a different man. I could then work all right and sleep soundly."

Mr. Schaeffer gave the above statement in September 1914 and on January 17, 1917, Mr. Schaeffer said: "The cure which I received from Doan's Kidney Pills has been lasting. I repeat every word of my former endorsement."

WOMAN WORKS 15 HOURS A DAY

Marvelous Story of Woman's Change from Weakness to Strength by Taking Druggist's Advice.

Peru, Ind.—"I suffered from a displacement with backache and dragging down pains so badly that at times I could not be on my feet and it did not seem as though I could stand it. I tried different medicines without any benefit and several doctors told me nothing but an operation would do me any good. My druggist told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it with the result that I am now well and strong. I get up in the morning at four o'clock, do my housework, then go to a factory and work all day, come home and get supper and feel good. I don't know how many of my friends I have told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. ANNA METERIANO, 36 West 10th St., Peru, Ind.

Women who suffer from any such ailments should not fail to try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

ON GUARD

At this time of the year people feel weak, tired, listless, their blood is thin, they have lived indoors and perhaps expended all their mental and bodily energy and they want to know how to renew their energy and stamina, overcome headaches and backaches, have clear eyes, a smooth, ruddy skin, and feel the exhilaration of real good health tingling thru their body. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against ills of all kinds. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. It is to be noticed in the pale or pimply face, the tired, haggard appearance of the listless manner.

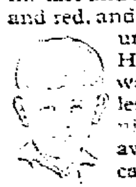

Drink hot water a half hour before meals, and for a vegetable tonic there's nothing better than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the old-fashioned herbal remedy, which has had such a fine reputation for fifty years. It contains no alcohol or narcotics. It is made from Golden Seal root, Bloodroot, Oregon grape root, Queen's root, Black Cherry bark, extracted with glycerine and made into tablets and liquid. Tablets sixty cents, at most drug stores.

In order to insure pure blood and to build up the system try this tonic known as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Get it now!

Mother Tells How Cuticura Healed Baby's Itching Eczema

On Face and Head Could Not Sleep Nights Hair Fell Out

"When four months old, my baby had itching and burning eczema on his face and head. The skin was sore and red, and the eczema caused disfigurement for the time being. He scratched himself and was very fretful and restless. He could not sleep nights and he kept me awake also. The eczema caused his hair to fall out.

"He had the eczema about two months. One night I read about Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and started to use them, and after using one box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Soap he was entirely healed. He is now three years old and has not been troubled with eczema since." (Signed) Mrs. Marie Ward, 904 Fitzgerald St., Bay City, Mich., July 17, 1917.

WRIGLEY'S

The use of WRIGLEY'S by the fighting men has created much comment across the water.

Even before American soldiers and sailors landed, the British, Canadian and French forces had adopted WRIGLEY'S as their war-time sweetmeat.

And now that Uncle Sam's stalwart boys are hitting the line, you'll find WRIGLEY'S a very noticeable ally of the Allies.

Keep them supplied. A box is easy to send—100 sticks—100 refreshments.

THE TRAGEDY OF PHILADELPHIA'S REFORM MAYOR

Philadelphia mourns the death of ex-Mayor Rudolph Blankenburg. The tribute to his memory is deserved. The man has accomplished something who can arouse a corrupt and apparently contented community to strive for better things. Rudolph Blankenburg did that. And for that achievement he is entitled to a high place among America's reformers. But his lack of economic knowledge led him to confine his efforts to superficial reforms and thus he failed to accomplish anything of permanent value.

Mr. Blankenburg's death occurred but a few months after that of his neighbor, Senator Jas. P. McNichol the political boss against whose domination his hardest fights had been waged. Another Philadelphian, Joseph Fels, once briefly compared the ideals and methods of these two and showed where both fell short. He said:

"On a certain street in Philadelphia two prominent contributors to charity live within a few doors of each other. Both are millionaires. One is a political boss. He makes the personal welfare of every poor person in his ward his personal business. He sees that none wants for coal in winter nor ice in summer. He protects them against eviction when unable to pay rent. He turns no unfortunate away empty handed. In dispensing charity he makes no distinction of race, color, religion, nationality or politics. He does not quibble about worthiness of applicants. It would be hard to find a living example of one more nearly an ideal philanthropist. But his charity is a curse to the city. It has made him all powerful politically and given him a grip upon the city that cannot easily be shaken off. His power is at the service of monopolistic corporations. He is a most efficient instrument in maintaining the system that enables a few to become rich by impoverishing the many. His charity would be a trifling return to the poor for evil done them were it not a means of tricking them into giving him continual support. As it is, it is not only no return at all, but an additional injury.

The other man is a reformer, a bitter opponent of his fellow philanthropist, the political boss. He is a man of good intentions and unquestioned sincerity. His charity does not take the form of indiscriminate giving, but he gives liberally to organizations of various kinds. His name on the stationery of a charitable organization is looked upon as a guarantee of its worthiness. But in spite of his good intentions, in spite of his personal probity, he too, is a supporter of predatory interests. His enmity to graft stops with the lesser forms, the forms frowned upon by law. He has waged many a battle against wrong methods of taking money out of the public treasury, but he is a staunch upholder of methods of getting it in, just as morally wrong. The iniquitous protective tariff he is ready to defend, even when this requires the support of a creature of the boss in preference to an honest free trade opponent. Thus, thru mere lack of knowledge, and in spite of good intentions, he too, is a potent factor in keeping the poor in a condition that makes them welcome the gifts of the political boss."

Mr. Fels's statement, made before Mr. Blankenburg had become mayor, was confirmed many times during the reformer's administration. During that period Philadelphia enjoyed honest government, so far as unjust economic conditions make it possible for a government to be honest. But against those conditions no move was made. And the voters oppressed by these conditions were driven once more to restore the political boss. That so much of his well-meant efforts should have been in vain, is a tragedy inseparable from the life of every active but superficial reformer.

"Working of Fate" : : By WALT MASON

My Uncle James, with brooding eye, gazed on the autos whizzing by. "Those blamed machines," he grimly said, "just strew the highway with their dead. I wouldn't ride in one, I wot, if you'd give me a house and lot. A wheel flies off, the springs collapse, and then where are your auto chaps? Go ask the undertaker gent, who'll tell you where their pieces went. I do not wish to scorch and flee, a nag is good enough for me." Then Uncle James rose from his chair and harnessed up the old gray mare. "Methinks I'll go to town," he said, "and buy nine loaves of graham bread." A piece of paper flew along, when Bess, the mare, was going strong. She snorted, shied, kicked up her heels, and busted all the shafts and wheels, her big steel shoe hit uncle's dome; an auto brought his fragments home. My Uncle John took jealous care in following his bill o' fare. For years he cut out pies and cakes, and eggs and cheese and juicy steaks, and lived on greens, such things as cows [illegible] when they set forth to browse. He said I'd [illegible] an early tomb, because the good things I'd consume. If I would reach a green old age, I'd live on lentils, leeks and sage. He ate some mushrooms on a day, and then in anguish passed away. The mushrooms were the toadstool brand, and so my Uncle John was [illegible], and I still use my easy chair, and eat all [illegible] the bill o' fare. Which shows that rules of life are vain, no human [illegible] safe and sane.

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 15—Isn't it funny.
How our ideas change?
When I was
A one gallus boy,
My ambition in life,
Was to have,
The biggest wart,
Of any boy in town.
And later when fuzz
Began to sprout.
On my upper lip,
I wanted a solid gold
Toothpick to wear
As a watch-charm,
More than anything
[illegible] in the world.
Now a little 50 room,
Palace up on the Hudson
And a private yacht,
And swimming pool,
And billiard parlor,
And a few things like that,
Would satisfy me.
It just goes to show,
Happiness is not based,
On the material things.
What pleases you today
Will bore you tomorrow.
Only a few hours ago
The landlord dropped in.
He's a material person
He thinks he wants his rent
He doesn't know,
That when he gets it
He'll probably spend it
And then be after
Some other fellow.
That landlord is happy
If he just knew it.
There are bigger things
To do in this world.
Than to go about.
Collecting rent.
What does rent amount to?
Nothing.
Just so much paper.
Or perhaps a little metal.
What good will rent do
In the next world?
A man should think.
Of bigger things in life.
And besides I paid the rent
Once before.
And I've only been here.
Going on three years.
Rent should not be.
The zenith of life.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

LOVES THE FLAG.

Blissfield, May 11, 1918

Editor Tribune:

In reply to the falsehood that is being circulated about the attitude I take against our beloved Flag, the Red White and Blue which unfurls o'er the land of the free, the tried and true, the land of my birth, allow me to say:

I have lived in America for nearly sixty years and in all this time I have always had due respect for the flag and would not want to live under any other, much less have to serve under any other. I feel that there is no other flag of any other nation in the world that can give me the courage and inspiration that the Red, White and Blue impart.

Now, to the person who said that I would not have the Flag displayed in my home, and that ten men could not put it there. That is false. No one ever heard me say that. Much less did I ever think it. I understand that some have made threats as to what they would do, as tho I were an outlaw tried before the courts and found guilty.

Fellow citizens, there are loyal citizens, but are they found among those who are false to their fellowman? I am glad to know that we have citizens who are not ready to believe everything they hear from questionable sources, but who will investigate and find out the truth and facts in the matter. And I court the most searching investigation.

Now in conclusion, I want the public, as far as it is concerned to know that I am not in sympathy with the kaiser, but on the other hand I want to do my part to defeat him in his undertakings. I continue a servant of the country in which I live and expect to remain.

J. GAMERTSFELDER,
Blissfield, Ohio.

Shall we give to the War Chest? Let our conscience be our guide.

The trouble with Russia is that there are so many Russians there.

And the same may be said of Germany, altho they don't count in politics.

Germany reports a shortage of noodles, which confirms what we have always suspected, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The reason Hindenburg didn't get to Paris April 1 is because he refused to be shot from the 70-mile gun.

Must have been afraid of landing in a church or asylum.

The kaiser delights in picking violets, says a Berlin report. It may work there, but the Belgian violets would reach up and bite him.

Germany's idea of a square deal to her allies is to haul Ukrainia's food supply thru Austria to Berlin.

OBITUARY.

S. C. Priest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Priest, was born in Fulton County Indiana, June 15, 1857; and when four weeks old he came to Ohio with his parents settling near Wooster, Wayne County, Ohio, where he was educated and taught school for several years; he also lived for several years in Greersville, Ohio, where he was actively engaged in the elevator and stock business for several years. On June 25th, 1907, he was united in marriage to Miss Nancy R. Baker; and soon after their marriage they moved to Walhonding, Ohio, where he was engaged in the milling, feed and stock business, in which he was very actively engaged when taken sick. His operations extended to other states, so extensive was his business.

Mr. Priest was a man of sterling character and excellent business qualities, and more he was a gentleman in the full sense of the word.

Go to him in the interest of any good cause, and you were sure to get a hearing, and not only good advise but he was very ready to help with his financies. He was a man among men, kind and considerate to those with whom he came in contact.

He had the respect, apparently of every man, woman and child in the community, which he commanded by the life he lived before his fellow men.

He leaves to mourn their loss a wife, three brothers three sisters, a host of relatives and friends.

The brothers and sisters are: George, living in Arkansas; Harve, in Wayne Count, Ohio; Walter, in Wooster, Ohio; one brother, Dave, is dead. Sister Anna Long, Wayne County, Ohio, and Mary Walton, Ashland, Ohio.

If his friends could drop but one rose each on his grave he would be buried beneath a bank of flowers. Such men as Mr. Priest are too often not appreciated in a community as they should be.

He believed in doing by others as he would have do by him.

Friends, let us hand more roses to such men while they yet live. Let us give them the praise while they yet hear.

City subscribers should insist on a receipt from the carrier.

A SIMPLE WAY TO REMOVE DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroly. The lather rinses out easily and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

CONGRESS TO CONTINUE IN SESSION TILL NEXT OCTOBER

WASHINGTON, MAY 15. Congress today was sitting on tenterhooks and pins awaiting a decision on the revenue question. If the administration insists on the prompt passage of the new tax bill which Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo says is "imperatively necessary" it means the congress must remain on the job at least until October. If the administration backs down and consents to a postponement of new revenue legislation congress can adjourn and go home by midsummer.

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, Chairman of the Finance Committee, and Representative Claude Kitchin, Democratic leader of the house, were scheduled to confer today with Mr McAdoo in an effort to persuade him to abandon his demand for immediate revenue legislation. Mr McAdoo still was ill today and it was doubtful whether he would be able to keep his engagement with Senator Simmons and Mr. Kitchin.

Despite the general desire for an early adjournment many members of both house today made it clear that Senator Simmons and Representative Kitchin were not voicing their attitude and expressed the hope that the secretary of the treasury would stand pat in his insistence on the enactment of new taxes.

This was the sentiment of the element of congress which last year demanded the imposition of higher levies upon war profits to meet the financial burden of the war. It was the view of Senator Lewis, of Illinois, the Democratic whip, newly elected to the finance committee.

"There are two strong reasons why congress should stay on the job and enact a revenue bill at the earliest possible date," said Senator Lewis. The first and all important is, of course, that the government needs the money.

The second is that congress ought to keep the revenue question out of politics. If we pass the bill this summer, sufficient time will have elapsed before election to permit thoro explanation of the new taxes to the people. If we leave the revenue bill go over until fall, it is almost sure to become a political issue and it will be framed partly for politics and partly for business. It ought to be considered impartially and framed by congress for the best interests of the whole country."

Reports were afloat today that when the new measure comes in the country may be surprised at the increase of the levies upon war profits. The line up in congress may be changed and some of those who championed the moderate taxes upon war profits in the last revenue bill will find "the shoe on the other foot." If this is the case, the "wealth conscriptionists" who fought the last measures will support the new bill and opposition will be considerably lessened.

ETON JACKETS FOR THE SLENDER

Let the woman with ample curves beware of the alluring Eton jacket, and abide by semi-fitting coats that come below the waistline.

Remembering some of the awful effects of 15 years ago, when Etons were in vogue, one dreads the inevitable examples of mistaken taste when all the world of women takes to Etons again.

These little jackets are so pretty, so jaunty and so comfortable for spring and summer wear, that every woman who can wear an Eton is going to have one, and a good many women who ought to know better will yield to the temptation.

To look graceful in one of these chopped off jackets a woman must have a girlish figure, no matter what her years. The fat girl of eighteen looks just as badly in an Eton as an older woman and much worse than the older woman who has retained her girlish lines. The waistline should be supple, the back straight, the hips and bust flat, the girdle should show at the trim waist line under the edge of the Eton, and the lines of the skirt fall straight without any outward curve at the hips.

And woe be to the Eton that sets out an inch or two from the figure at the waistline, because a curved back or pronounced bust will not allow it to fall in that correct lines.

But if you are slim and girlish of figure by all means have a pretty bit the Eton suit this season. Here is a model of attractive cut to follow.

Skirt plain and hemmed by hand at the edge. Tunic overskirt is plain, in points at the sides and caught up one side of the front, with button and loops for fastening. A wide, folded girdle of satin encircling the waist. Over this the Eton, opening at either side of a narrow waistcoat of white faille, a button and loop holding the pocket front across the waistcoat.

The waistcoat is a part of the pocket, and fastens high to the throat with a turnover collar of the white faille, overlapping the top of the Eton. Both tunic and Eton are bound all around with tailor braid.

MRS. DEHART SPEAKS AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

Mrs Eiza DeHart, of South Fourth street, who recently returned from the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs at Hot Springs, Ark., addressed the students of the high school Tuesday afternoon at their regular chapel meeting. Mrs DeHart told the students of her trip there and recounted a number of the addresses given. Her talk to the pupils was ended with the recitation of Rudyard Kipling's famous poem, "If."

The Real Reason.

An Illinois woman wanted a divorce because her husband snored and talked in his sleep. He's probably one of those exasperating husbands who talks in his sleep just enough to arouse her curiosity, but not enough to tell her where he has been.

ANNUAL MANUAL TRAINING EXHIBIT AT THE CENTRAL BUILDING LAST OF WEEK

"There is always need of arousing public interest in the activities of the school." So Said W. H. Moyer Tuesday when speaking in the interest of the Annual Manual Arts exhibit to be held at the Central school building Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 16 to 18.

"This exhibit is the only opportunity of the year to give school patrons a visual impression of the work done, by the pupils and instructors. How well they have succeeded will at least be partially demonstrated when the work is displayed for public inspection

"It should be remembered, however, that from the viewpoint of a school subject, the making of projects is not the chief aim of the Manual Training course.

"The following are some of the ends which Manual Training when carried on in harmony with modern educational tendencies will promote:

1. It will instill in the minds of the pupils a respect for others in every condition in life and for every form of legitimate manual labor.

2. The concreteness of the subject makes it impossible to practise deception, therefore raises the moral standard.

3. It rounds out the education by supplying the industrial side.

4. It provides rest and recreation from continuous book study, and returns the boy to his work refreshed in mind and body.

5. It often lays the foundation for a useful trade to be carried to a more complete development later.

6. It brings the school and home in closer relations.

"Be loyal to the school and attend the exhibit; be patriotic and bid a liberal amount on the furniture auctioned off for the benefit of the Red Cross."

Representatives of oil districts who are in the majority of the committee accepted it believing the administration was prepared to insist that it be enacted.

SOLDIERS IN ITALY GETS A FRUIT CAKE FROM COSHOCTON

After nearly four months on the way a fruit cake, that had been mailed by his parents in Coshocton, to Henry Wolfe, in Italy has arrived.

The delicious fruit cake was carefully packed in oil paper and a special tin box made to fit it. It was mailed November 18 and Wolfe was informed that the package was on its way.

There was much corresponding about the package that had failed to arrive, and last week, Mrs. A. F. Wolfe received a letter from her son, stating that the cake had arrived the last of April and "was delicious." Henry and his comrades expected to find the cake crumbled but to their delight, it had carried perfectly and had not dried out.

WILL INVESTIGATE CHANCE OF GRAFT IN AIR SERVICE

WASHINGTON, MAY 15.—An investigation of the expenditures of the hundreds of millions appropriated by congress for aircraft production by a special committee of the house seemed imminent today when Chairman Dooling called a meeting of the war expenditures committee to consider the Sweet resolution.

Representative Swift, of New York author of the resolution, was ready to present a mass of evidence he has gathered in an independent investigation which he believed would tend to substantiate Gutzon Borglum's charges of graft and profiteering in aircraft production. His resolution, however, calls merely for an audit and a report to the house.

Chairman Dooling has let it be known that he will vote with the Republicans to report out the Swift resolution and when this is done the investigation is assured. There would be little opposition, even by the administration's strongest supporters, on the floor to its passage.

Coincident with Chairman Dooling's call, members of the military affairs' committee received letters from Secretary of War Baker defending the Liberty motor. The text of the letter was kept secret, but it was known to give a complete defense of the much advertised mechanism.

Baker asserted that the motor was not, in fact, the Packard motor made over. He said the criticism that had been made of it was not altogether justified since the motor served excellently for planes of the heavier type. He gave in detail to history of each part, showing that many parts were developed from those of a German Mercedes' engine. Baker admitted, however, that for the lighter combat planes the Liberty motor was not adapted.

MARIETTA.—Dr. A. Howard Smith, of this city, who has been commissioned a captain in the medical corps, United States army, has been ordered to the Rockefeller Institute for special study.

MAY FESTIVAL DELIGHTS BIG Y.W. AUDIENCE

The annual May Festival of the Young Women's Christian organization was enjoyed by a several hundred members of the organization at Central High School auditorium last evening.

The program began with the crowning of the May Queen, Miss Eloise Marier, who with her attendants, Annabelle Glenn and Ruth Brant, made their entrance following the May pole dance given by sixteen girls. The pretty ceremony that accompanied the crowning of the May queen was participated in by the Queen, her attendants and the following girls: Thelma Bradford, Mamie Bantum, Doris Young, Vlarice McCullough, Myrtle Lane, Nancy Miller, Verna Shryock, Clara Wright, Lucille Miller, Beulah Rusk, Margaret Hahn, Thelma Green, Mary Wilson, Dorothy Wisenburg, Dorothy Carter, Leota Hagans.

The splendid musical program given by the Glee Club under the direction of Miss Marie Reuss with Miss Bernice Johnson as accompanist, consisted of a collection of chorus numbers, solos, a sextette and a trio by various members of the organization. There was a most appropriate reading by Miss Dorothy Fretts, a piano solo by Miss Eleanor Custer, two violin numbers by Mrs. Olinger, and two beautiful vocal numbers by Miss Nelle Parrish, formerly in charge of the Glee Club—Miss Parrish is now located in Minneapolis but is visiting in Coshocton at present and consented to assist with the program last evening.

The stage decorations and costumes of those taking part in the program carried out a color scheme that made a most effective arrangement.

The program was concluded with a most effective patriotic tableau posed by Miss Roth and Miss Ethel Dawson.

In the announcements made by the president Miss Almack, the date of the net social meeting was named as May 28.
